The Safe Energy

It is a pelleted feed designed to provide an energy source based on high digestibility fibers, vegetable oils and extruded cereals that guarantee a safe energy intake, avoiding the multiple digestive and behavioral disorders caused by unprocessed starch.

The high digestibility fibers (beet pulp, soy's hulls) make an effective energy source and an important fiber contribution that enhances the natural digestive process.

High calorie vegetable oils improve hair conditions, stamina and general performance.

Extruded cereals favor "pre-cecal" digestion of starch which guarantees the glycogen reserves reposition. In addition, SportFiber is a valuable source of vitamins and minerals that can be used in animals of any age and/or condition.

FIBRA SPORT is, without a doubt, the feed of choice for animals with high requirements (Horses on breaking, training or high performance, stallions, aged mares, convalescent animals, etc.).
